

HUH. MAGAZINE

Art Barter NYC

by Jonnie Craig
December 8th 2010

Tomorrow from 12pm, head over to Art Barter at the NP Contemporary Art Centre. The creators of Art Barter realised, around november 2009 when it launched, that people were acquiring art in progressively different ways. As opposed to the usual idea that the art is worth its price tag, Art Barter set up an event in which money is not allowed. Instead, 'buyers' pledge a trade of some kind and, should the artist choose to accept, the art is 'sold'.